Memories light the corners of our minds,

Misty water colored memories,

of the way we were.

Scattered pictures of the smiles we left behind,

Smiles we gave to each other,

For the way we were.

Could it be that life was all so simple then,

Or will time rewrite every line?

If we had the chance to do it all again

Tell me: would we, could we?

Memories may be beautiful and yet,

What's too painful to remember,

We sometimes choose to forget.

So it's the laughter, we will remember,

Whenever we remember, the way we were.

just a few memories . . .

principal's message

To the Class of 1976:

Congratulations to each graduate of the Class of 1976. You have reached an important plateau in your educational plans. Now, you have the necessary credentials to extend your formal education beyond the secondary level. If formal training is not your immediate goal, be cognizant that education, that is the acquisition of knowledge, begins at birth and ends with the grave. Through reading, work, experience, travel and social contacts you will grow in comprehension, understanding, and assuredly in a storehouse of memories.

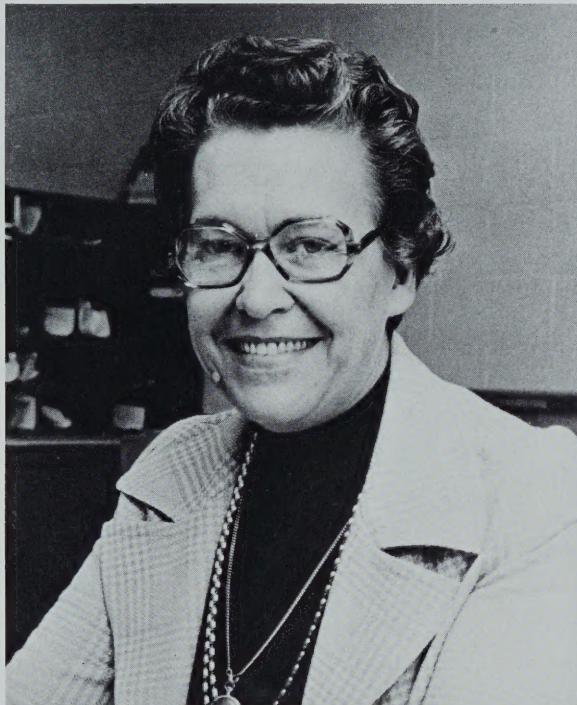

Your yearbook editors have chosen "Memories" as their theme. During your high school years incidents, some pleasant some unpleasant, will at a future date bring smiles or frowns as you recall escapades perpetrated by your fellow classmates of members of the faculty.

Memories recall the past, the good old days, fleeting moments of physical or emotional experiences that bring pleasure, pain, shame, or embarrassment. But, the past is gone; the future holds the promise. The past won't be forgotten but the future can be planned. Set goals; Even if you never attain your goals there will be satisfaction in your pursuit of them.

May each of you accumulate pleasant memories as you strive for your place in life.

Sincerely,
John A. Murray
Principal

dedication

We, the Class of 1976, wish to dedicate our yearbook to Mrs. Virginia M. Lind. She has been in the high school for 15 years and we feel she has, through her friendly smile, warm heart, and helping ways, made our years at Abington High more pleasurable.

We wish to thank her for all she has done and we hope that through this yearbook she will remember us as fondly as we will remember her.

The Class of 1976

in memoriam

Everett Hartwell
A teacher at A.J.H.S.
1958 to 1975

"The noble act which he did, and his greatness, they are not written: for they are many."

Christopher Crahan
A teacher at A.H.S.
1964 to 1974

"Consider that he laboured not for himself only, but for all them that seek knowledge.!"

from the editors

From our four years at A.H.S. we will all have many memories. Some are good and some are bad, but either way, they have helped us come together as a class. We have made many new friends, cried a little, laughed a lot, but no matter what, these memories will stay with us as each of us goes his separate way.

This yearbook could not have been possible without the good times we have shared; which, all too soon, will become memories.

We wish to thank our advisor, Mr. Stanton, and our hard working staffs. Without their help, none of this could have been possible.

Through this yearbook we hope you will be able to recall all of our memories of our high school years.

FRESHMAN

We stayed in platoons as the Junior High midgets,
Held hands and met up with the kids from St. Bridget's.
We thought that being underclassmen wouldn't hurt
With officers like Shelly, Liz, Rachael, and Kurt.
We bought class jackets, to try to be in,
Approval of the upperclassmen, we wanted to win.
We all were so nervous at our very first dance,
Hoping and praying for a fling at romance.
Our mothers and sisters helped us to bake
Brownies, cookies, and even some cakes.
The First National Store was the setting for this
To raise some cash, we hardly could miss.
To the music of the juke box we jived in the caf,
Afraid to put the dime thinking "they" might laugh.
We waited and waited for the top ten to play
But all we heard at lunch was "D.O.A."
At the rallies we were afraid to show our spirit
But we overcame that when we heard, "Let's hear it!"
The end of our freshman year was at hand
Our trip to Paragon Park was planned;
Our nickles, dimes, and quarters were all soon spent.
The rides and arcades was where it all went.
We ended the year of '73
A little bit closer, hopefully,

SOPHOMORE

Moving on up to the second floor,
Being older didn't seem to be much of a chore,
The boys got taller; they finally grew,
This urged on romances, some old and some new.
Elections were held, some changes were made,
Steve and Linda came in, Rachel and Shelly stayed.
Our complexions got worse from the candy we sold
We could have sworn that chocolate was six months old.
We ordered our class rings of silver and gold
A stone of any color, the setting would hold.
They finally came, we wore them with pride,
As for the high prices, we took them in stride
With most of us cold on that wintry March day,
The band went to Hawaii for a short stay
They went and played music while having great fun,
They returned home with tans from the warm tropic sun.
We learned how to party, it didn't take long
We spent many nights on that Frolio lawn.
We pretended to like it, that bad-tasting brew,
The older kids liked it, we thought we would too.
As soon as we saw police headlights scan
We'd take off for the bushes; all of us ran.
And as for our outing to Sandy Neck Beach,
The men in blue suits took our booze out of reach.
We really didn't need it, we had fun anyway,
For our sophomore year would end in a day.
We ended that year of '74
Anticipating our big move up to the third floor.

JUNIOR

We started right off on the third floor this year,
Leaving the bottom two without any tears.
Stephen, Rachel, Linda, and Shell
Were the officers we chose, we knew they'd do well.
Our parties were moved; Sewer Beds to Park Ave,
But this couldn't change all the good times we'd have.
The lunches got worse, but our stomachs were saved
Thanks to the goodies we had so often craved,
For the breakfast ladies gave donuts and smiles
To keep us from starving all the morning while.
The night before t'was early to bed, and to rise
At eight o'clock---SAT's; we must be alert, awake, and wise.
We collected and saved all our junk for a while
With so many of us, we soon had a pile
We loaded it up and went to Sue's yard
Where we found out making money wasn't so hard.
May 23rd, it came oh, so soon,
"Color My World" we chose as our tune.
We sweated and toiled for many long hours,
To fold, twist, and cut those crepe paper flowers.
When finished, our world was so nice and round,
But hoisting it up, it crashed to the ground.
We decorated, so it hardly looked like a gym,
Well, at least, not with the lights turned down real dim.
We got into line for the important Grand March,
The girl's in long dresses, the boys stiff and starched.
"Hey Look Me Over,"--the song the band played,
Left most of us all very shocked and dismayed.
Parents and friends all showed up at the scene,
As Shelly was chosen as our Prom Queen.
Off to Kell's house to party till dawn
The breakfast next morning on Shelly's front lawn.
We went to the Cape that very same day,
Then Billy Smith's cottage, it was quite a long way.
But the trip was well worth it, we all had great fun,
But our year of '75 was over and done.

SENIOR

Here we are, seniors, the big kids at last,
But we knew this honor would go by all too fast.
We voted in Rich, Shelly, Debbie, and Jim,
To plan all our fun; the treasury filled to the brim.
We planned and worked hard for our Christmas Bazaar,
This was the most money we'd made yet by far.
Outside the school some of us shouted
For inside the building "the scabies" were scouted.
Our pictures came back in the early fall,
But in a short time, we had traded them all.
Two dances we ran, "What Next" was the band,
We seniors would jive, while the freshmen would stand.
"The Odds Are Against Us" was our Senior Class Play,
But the play's early problems soon faded away.
Our reception and graduation have arrived all too soon,
We will finally leave on the sixth of June.
We leave Abington High with fond memories and tears,
And 1976 being the best of all years.

class

1. We leave taking Dave and Marie away from Daddy.
2. We leave the junior girls with hopes that they'll have a better time at their prom than they did at ours.
3. We leave Abington High a little more colorful.
4. We leave the freshmen and sophomores a warning, "Beware of the back-stabbing juniors."
5. We leave Pam Sharp's beautiful voice being drowned out by the immature juniors at the Rockland rally.
6. We leave Sara Mackiewicz answering to the name of "Duckie."
7. We leave Mrs. Reardon a list of DONT'S for her library.
8. We leave Miss Mac Donald, not knowing if she's friend or foe.
9. We leave Diana Johnson a lifetime supply of "Cover Girl."
10. We Leave Mr. Kelliher yelling, "Hit the dummy," and then being attacked by the football team.
11. The senior girls leave after singing, "Hey look me over" at the prom.
12. We thank Rory for conducting the band, coaching the football team, baseball team, basketball team.....
13. We leave the sophomore girls being passed around, and around, and around...
14. We leave the cafeteria trying to figure out if the cookies are hamburgers or if the the hamburgers are cookies.
15. We leave thanks to Miss Kingsbury and Mr. Louis our appreciation for all they have done.
16. The senior boys leave the junior boys a "Tootsie, Tootsie."
17. We leave thanks to Mr. Campbell in 104 for making us Campbell Kids.
18. We leave Mr. Broomfield shaking his moroccas in the direction of any pretty girl.
19. We leave Billy Smith's cottage condemned after our cozy little get-together.
20. We leave thanks to Mrs. Phillips for her helpful contributions to our class spirit.
21. We leave thanks to Mrs. Marks for putting up with the yearbook staffs and all their mess.
22. Shelly leaves the honor society singing, "If only you believe like I believe."
23. We leave the Summer Street Mafia still remaining cool.
24. We leave Nov. 6 as the day for a walkout, firedrill, bombscare, firedrill, bombscare....
25. We leave Mr. Corcoran locked in the A.V. room.
26. Lorinda, Karen, and Sue leave the majorettes wondering, "What's next?"
27. We leave Mr. Hotteleman a dime for his thought because of inflation.
28. We, the seniors, leave after voting our friend Mr. DiPietro as Mr. D.A.R.
29. We leave Jello saluting A.H.S. in his own way.
30. We leave a few junior boys thinking they're at the top of the senior girls' best bodies list.
31. We leave Brian and Ralph getting the recognition they deserved for soccer.
32. We leave with Burger Time as a place of our own to hang out at.
33. The senior boys leave Norma Mills a box of Tic Tacs, so she can continue to get a bang out of life.
34. We leave Belinda Artz a pack of cigarettes and a straw.
35. We leave Mrs. Millet a new sterling silver tea set and not one joke about her height.
36. We leave Mr. McMann and Mr. Porter enjoying the new co-ed gym classes.
37. We leave Scott McIver always "tied up" at work.
38. We leave the teachers fruitcakes instead of brownies.
39. We leave "Columbo Mayer" solving the mysteries of mathematics.

will

40. We leave Mr. Robinson's class playing the role of sleeping beauty.
41. We leave Patty Gilis an Emily Post book on etiquette.
42. Hag, Lenny, and Dowd leave the seniors with paper to make their poster.
43. We leave Debbie Mascaro taking over our half time show with her hot-on-the-flames baton.
44. We leave the underclassmen thinking they're upperclassmen.
45. We leave Caren Weaver as "leader of the lice."
46. We leave Mary Mason and Donna Phelps as the first girls to ever eat two lunches.
47. We leave Steve Burke lots of luck in the army, because he'll need it.
48. The seniors leave after getting into the good vibes at the Chicago-Beachboys concert.
49. The senior girls leave Corinne Fitzgerald an extra large gym suit to cover her sexy body.
50. We leave Kim Wells and Carol Richards a can of beer so they can both get drunk for the weekend.
51. We leave Mrs. Lind and Miss Tracey much thanks for the cooperation and understanding we needed.
52. We leave "OUR WORLD" crashing to the floor.
53. We leave the freshmen boys singing, "We love you seniors."
54. We leave A.H.S. ready to start the second revolution of 76.
55. We leave the senior girls singing, "Thats the way, uh-huh- uh-huh, we like it."
56. The 3rd lunch leave their already cold pizzas in the cafe, as they truck out for a fire drill.
57. We leave Mark Melanson a step ladder to see over Owen's counter.
58. The senior band and drill team leave Mr. Smith saying, "Whithle, whithle, whithle and all right gang."
59. We leave Shelly's Hot Wheels thermos to Mr. McAuliffe.
60. The senior boys leave hanging onto their security blankets-- the bubblers.
61. The senior girls leave the first floor girls' room to Mrs. Philbrick.
62. We leave Jane Ewalts big mouth to Karen Doughty.
63. The senior class leaves "Dot" a bottle of No-Doze for his classes.
64. We leave Mr. Paster lots of luck with the underclassmen.
65. We leave our cheat sheets in Mrs. Reilly's and Mrs. Rennie's waste baskets.
66. We leave the phantom of the locker room very rich.
67. Dean Harris leaves as an outstanding example of courage.
68. We leave Mr. Byron a heater for his freezing cold room.
69. We leave the fans at the football games wondering what the cheerleaders are saying.
70. We leave the freshmen at our sophomore outing.
71. We leave thanks to the committee who voted "OUR" trophy to the juniors.
72. We leave Ed Schockley and Lisa Kelly as nice kids, but thinking they're seniors.
73. We leave Rockland still as our #1 rival.
74. We leave Mrs. Deurden sheet music for her musical bracelets.
75. We leave remembering our parties at the meadows, the pits, the platform, the Frolio, Park Ave, Ames Nowell, and the sewer beds.
76. Finally, we leave with many unforgettable memories of our years together.

my senior year

September came soon and the summer went fast

But I realized this year would be my last.

My fourth and final year, I couldn't believe

That May twenty-first would be time to leave.

Cheering the football team on Saturdays

And all of my friends going their separate ways

These thoughts have slipped in and out of my mind

And hopefully they will all heal in time.

Goodbye to the teachers who've helped us along

Who threw us from the lav's when we knew we were wrong

Good luck to the juniors, they'll soon take our place,

The freshmen and sophomores have just entered the race.

Sure, we all had some good times together

Like playing in gym in twenty-below weather

I think of the laughter that we've been through

That was the past, but what about the new?

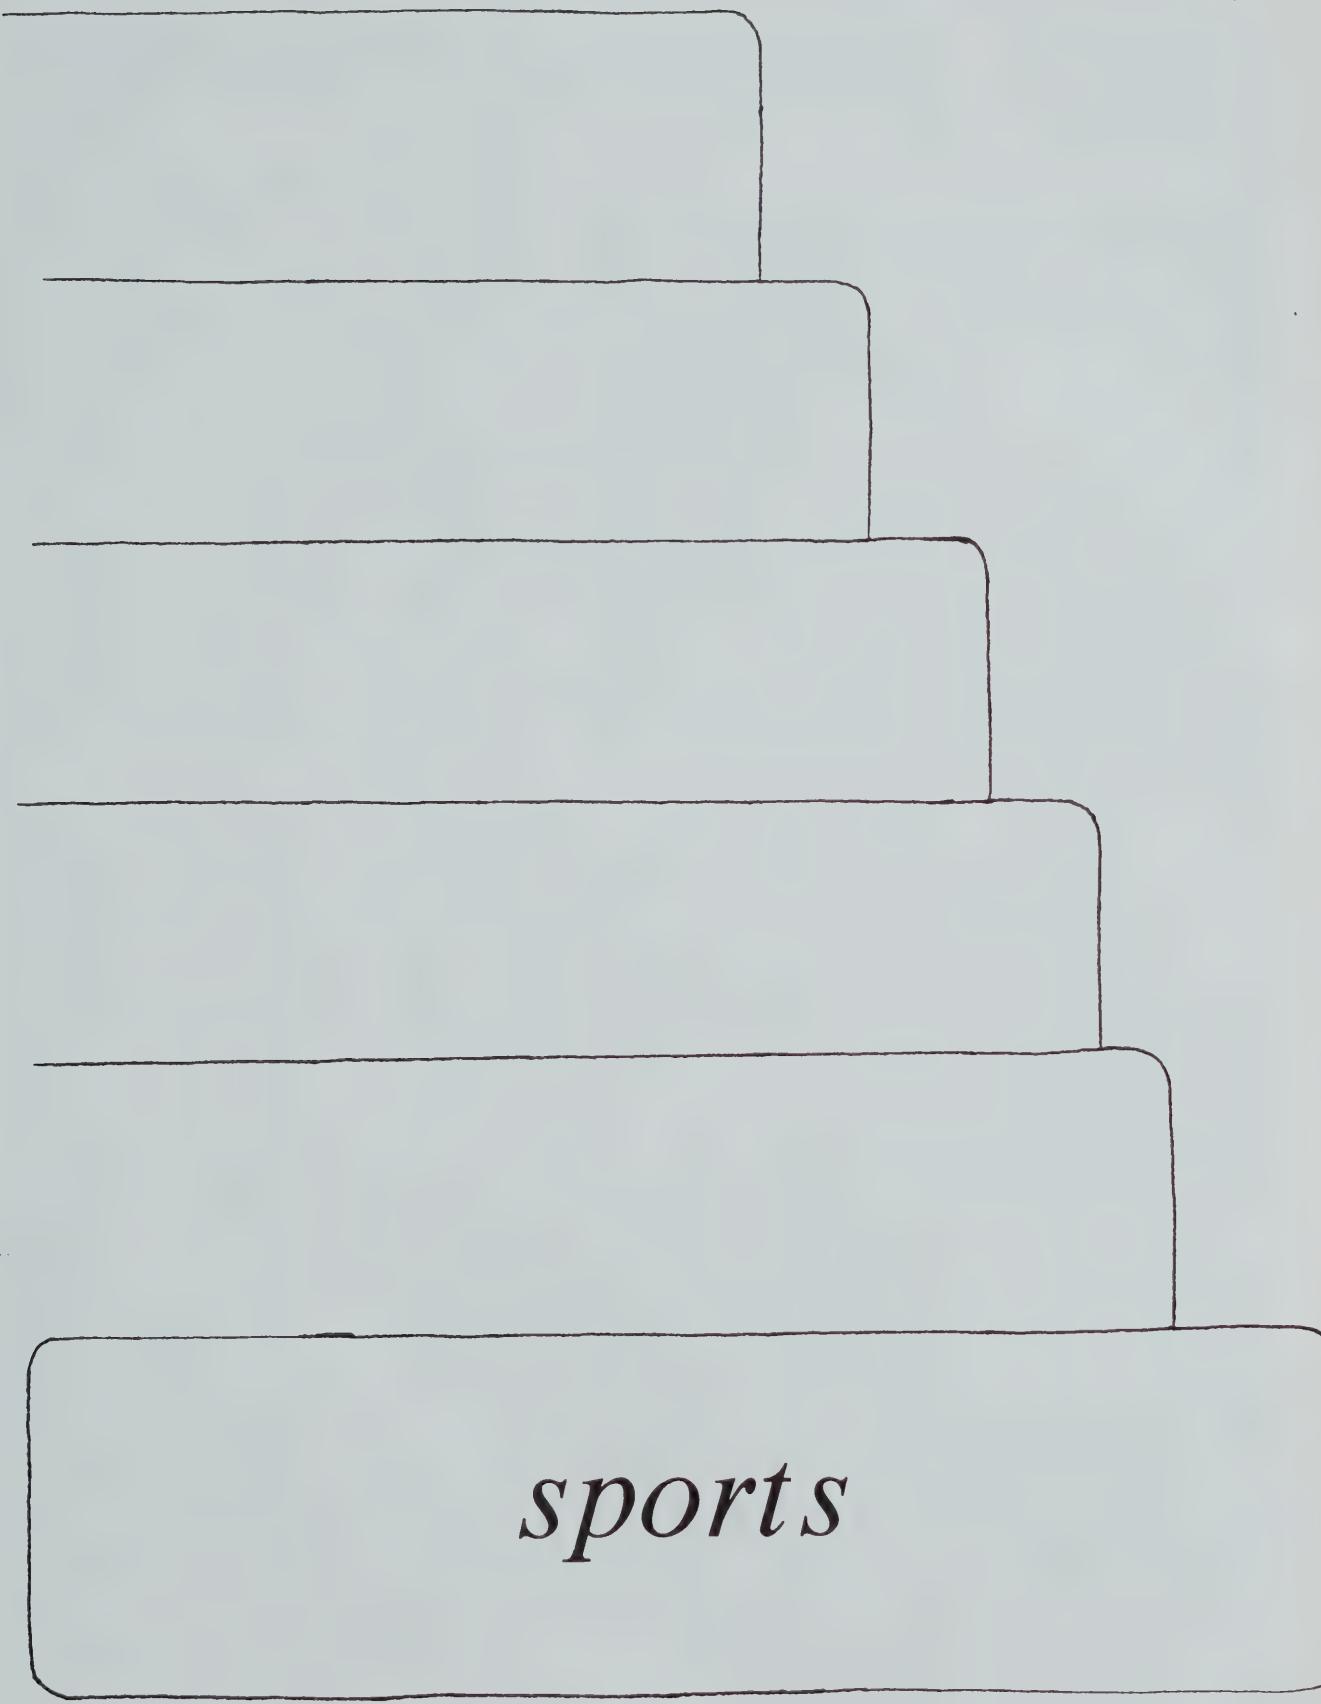

What's to become of us in future years?

Why does graduation end with so many tears?

Are we happy, sad; a little of the two?

Remembering the past, looking forward to the new.

Remember

Remember me when I am gone away...
When you can no more hold me by the hand...
Remember me when no more, day by day,
You tell me of our future that you planned...
Yet, if you should forget me for a while
And afterwards remember, do not grieve...
Better by far you should forget and smile
Than that you should remember and be sad.

-Emily Dickinson
